Poetry.

WOUNDED.

BY J. W. WATSON.

Steady, boys, steady!
Keep your arms ready!
God only knows whom we may meet here.
Don't let me be taken!
I'd rather awaken.
To-morrow, in——no matter where,
Than lie in [redacted]

God help the poor wretch that fell in that fight,
No time was there given for prayer or for flight.
They fell by the score, in the crash, hand to hand,
And they mingled their blood with the slaughtering and sand.
Huzza!

Great Heavens! this bullet hole gaps like a grave,
A curse on the aim of the traitorous knave!
Is there never a one of ye knows how to pray?
Or speak for a man as his life ebbs away?
Pray! Pray!
Our Father! our Father! why don't you proceed?
Can't you see I am dying? Great God how I bleed!
Ebbing away!
Ebbing away!
The light of the day,
Is turning to gray,
Pray! Pray!
Our Father in Heaven—boys tell me the rest,
While I stanch the hot blood from this hole in my breast.
There is something about the forgiveness of sin,
Put that in! put that in!—and then
I'll follow your words and say an amen.

Here Morris, old fellow, put hold on my hand,
And Wilson, my comrade—it wasn't a grand,
When they came down the hill like a thunder-charged cloud,
And were scattered like mist, by our brave little crowd!
Where's Wilson—my comrade—here stoop down your head,
Can't you say a short prayer for the dying and dead!

"Christ God, who died for sinners all,
Hear thou this suppliant wanderer's cry;
Let not e'en this poor sparrow fall
Unheeded by thy gracious eye.
Throw wide thy gates and let him in,
And take him pleading, to thy arms;
Forgive, oh Lord! his lifelong sin,
And quiet all his fierce alarms."

God bless you, my comrade, for singing that hymn,
It is light to my path, when my sight has grown dim.
I am dying—bend down, till I touch you once more—
Don't forget me old fellow—God prosper this war!
Confusion to enemies—keep hold of my hand—
And float our dear flag o'er a prosperous land!

PRISON LIFE.

BY A PRISONER.

At last the glad release came to us. Sherman had started on his "march to the sea." The rebels were perfectly ignorant of his intentions. They feared he would come and recapture us. So as an act characteristic to them they further reduced our rations, giving us but little more than a pint of coarse corn meal, with a pinch of salt—nothing more. Do you say men could not live on that? Well, we did live. Perhaps hope kept us alive. We knew as much of Sherman as the rebels did, and it was plainly seen that the days of the confederacy were drawing near to a close—an ignominious close, disgraceful to all who were in it.

On the 26th of Nov. the first thousand were ordered to be ready to move on the morrow. They went outside, when the sick were taken on the cars and the rest sent back. This looked like exchange, but we had been deceived so many times, our faith was weak, and we thought we were only to be taken out of Sherman's reach, to another prison. In a day or two the sick who had been taken away were sent back in. They said they had started for Savannah, but found the railroad had been cut by our men. This was good news, for we thought now we would be released by exchange, or else by recapture. At last on the 7th of Dec., the sick of five "thousands" were taken out and sent away. The ninth thousand, to which I belonged, received orders to be ready on the next day; oh, how we dreamed of home that night. How many hopes and fears alternated in our hearts. I could hardly believe I was to be taken, as I was not sick at all, though considerably reduced in flesh. Morning came, we were drawn up in line by hundreds. A certain number were to be taken from each squad. When the examining Surgeon came to my file, I was standing between Cooke and Hook, both of Greene county; Hook was sent first. Then he came to me and asked me if I was sick; my heart came up into my mouth, and I told him I had been sick for seven months and had then a very bad diarrhœa. He seemed to doubt my statements, but I persisted and at last asked him to feel my arm. That settled the question, and giving me a push he said, "well go on." Did I do wrong? Is not "self preservation the first law of nature?"

We went out side and were paroled, then drew rations and camped in an open field. Cooke came out and joined us in a little while. I guess he too had not just told "the truth, and nothing but the truth," but what of that? It was life, or almost certain death to us. Who would choose death? Not one in a thousand.

We soon built large fires of pitchy pine wood, and the wind blowing strong, our eyes were almost put out. Indeed some were made blind by it. We did not get started until the next evening. In the meantime we drew good rations. I procured a lot of cow peas and cooked a quart of them. They were just ready to be eaten, when stepping aside for a moment, some thieving Yankee stole them. To this this day I have regretted losing those beans.

We reached Charleston, S. C., at daylight on the morning of the 10th. We marched through the upper part of the town. Saw the ugly wounds of the "Swamp angel." But all was still then. A truce was pending for exchange. About noon the fog cleared off the harbor and we sailed out on a rebel boat, past Fort Sumter with its battered walls and black guns, on out to our truce boat, and then, oh joy, we saw once more the "Stars and Stripes." We cheered till our throats were hoarse. Can you imagine our feelings as we stepped upon our boat and felt that we were "out of the gates of hell," "out of the jaws of death?" The men cried and shouted and sung and danced and wrestled and almost went mad.

Then we were given, oh sweetest moment in our lives, a cup of Coffee, a piece of meat and a good old hardtack. How we talked of corn meal, and rotten pork, of peas and green beef, of slavery and liberty. Ah, he who would know the value of liberty must be deprived of it for a while.

We threw our clothes into the sea and drew new ones of Uncle Sam's manufacture. And now occurred a stange phenomenon. The old clothes, as soon as they touched the water, started at once to the shore. It might have been the tide carried them thither but we all believed the lice were making for their old homes.

ABOUT ARMY HORSES.

A contributor to the Independent writes: "I used to admire the horses in the army. Well-trained cavalry horses would always understand the bugle, and never make mistakes. The men were sometimes confused, and would rein the horses the wrong way. I have seen horses rear straight up rather than obey the rein against the bugle. Turn the horses loose without riders, and at the sound of the bugle they would form themselves into line and go through their parade. At the battle of Corinth I watched the artillery horses. They came in on a swift run, drawing a thirty-two pounder; and on the instant the signal was given, they wheeled, the piece was unlimbered in a moment, and then at another signal, they were away again on a run. The gun was in good position and did good execution. But the rebels flanked us, and we were compelled to leave the gun and fall back lighty rods. There we reformed in good order, and with fixed bayonets charged back upon the rebels. They were in disorder and fled. We took the gun again; but knowing that we could not long hold the ground, our object was to bring off the gun. So we opened right and left and the bugle sounded for the horses. They came dashing up again on the run till they reached the gun; they wheeled, waited a moment to be hitched, and then whirled it away in no time and saved it. I stood there, though the bullets were whizzing around me, and looked in perfect admiration at those horses.

Had they no riders to guide them?

Yes, but they obeyed the bugle. Their riders could not control them.

The following is recommended as a recipe for making Bologna sausage: Take an eel skin and stuff it with ground cat; season it with Scotch snuff and persimmon oil; lay it on a hog pen to dry, and then hang it up by the tail in a grocery for three months for the flies to give it the trade mark, then it is ready for use.

IMPEACHMENT TRIAL.

The Senate Secret Session—Indications of the Verdict on Impeachment.

From the special dispatches to our city exchanges we extract the following:

WASHINGTON, May 11.—While the Senate was in secret session excited crowds were in the lobby anxious to know the course of debate inside. Frequent inquiries were made of all who were supposed to know any thing of the matter. It was ascertained that Messrs. Grimes, Trumbull, Fessenden had clearly expressed themselves against the conviction of the President while Henderson was against the articles of impeachment except the eleventh. Messrs. Sherman and Howe, according to general accord, supported only the second, third, fourth, eighth and eleventh articles. Messrs. Edmunds, Williams and Morrill (Me.) support all the articles, while Messrs. Hendrike, Davis, Johnson and Dixon oppose them.

It was ascertained that Senators Conness, Harlan, Nelson and Morton spoke for and Senator Buckalew in opposition to the conviction of the President. The expectation by outside parties had been that those who are regarded as doubtful on the Republican side would express their views.

A motion that the Senate meet at half past eleven o'clock to-morrow to sit with open doors was agreed to.

It is generally conceded the first article of impeachment will not be sustained.

The opinion seems general that President Johnson will be acquitted. The names of the following Republicans are freely given as voters against the articles of impeachment to-morrow: Grimes, Henderson, Trumbull, Van Winkle, Fowler, Ross, Anthony, Fessenden and Frelinghuysen.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The fact has come to light that Messrs. Henderson, Trumbull, Grimes and Fessenden had fully decided upon their course last Friday, and that those in the proper ring were made aware of the situation. This caused the hitherto unexplained confidence at the White House on that day. There is still considerable confidence that conviction will take place on the second and eleventh articles, though the President has had eighteen hours to work in, and all the money a whisky ring can furnish and only two more to buy out of six regarded doubtful. Senator Howard is quite sick this morning. A postponement may be ordered. The indignation among Republicans is intense.

Full State Delegations, including all the Congressmen and prominent men here from their respective States have waited upon several of the doubtful Senators, and in one or two instances have received assurances that one or more of the articles—generally the eleventh—would be voted for by those who were believed to be against conviction.

The Managers count up this morning one majority for conviction certain, but the illness of Senator Howard continues. His physicians have declared that his life would be endangered should he be brought to the Capitol to cast his vote. It has been determined, therefore, to postpone the final vote for some days, probably until Saturday or Monday. Should Mr. Howard recover, the Managers are yet confident the President's removal will be effected.

There is no abatement in the excitement throughout the city this morning. Betting is going on freely and both sides are confident as to the result. The Republicans are still very hopeful and by no means concede that impeachment will fail to day. A count this morning shows that if there be no break in the Republican ranks Johnson's conviction is sure by one majority. The whole case last night seemed to rest upon the vote of one man, Mr. Willey, of West Virginia. He has, however, expressed intention to vote for conviction on three or four articles, and this insures one more than is necessary for a two-third vote, including the vote of Senator Wade.

The feeling against Senators Fessenden and Trumbull for their treachery is very strong here. The Maine delegation in Congress held a meeting last night and decided to wait upon Fessenden this morning and demand that he vote in accordance with the expressed wishes of his State or resign his position. The Illinois members of Congress went in a body this morning to see Senator Trumble and make the same demands upon him. What response he gave has not transpired at the time of sending this dispatch. Trumbull was hooted at on the streets last evening while returning from the Senate chamber.

With the adjournment of the Senate until Saturday the impeachment stock went up rapidly. It is believed that the public sentiment will become so strong by that time as to insure the success of impeachment. An intimate friend of President Johnson asserts privately, that no matter what influences are brought to bear upon Senators Trumbull, Fessenden, Grimes and Henderson, they are committed in writing to support the President against conviction. It is stated that these four gentlemen had a private interview with the President about three weeks ago, and pledged themselves to vote for his acquittal if he nominates General Schofield as Secretary of War. This statement comes from the best of sources, and is credited by a great many Senators.

The opinion is freely expressed by the Republican Senators that a free use of money has been made. The members of the whisky ring claim this morning that they have disposed of two millions of money during the past ten days, but preserve an entire reticence.

Court reassembled at 11:30 A. M. As soon as the journal was read, Mr. Chandler rose and said the condition of his colleague Mr. Howard, was such as to prevent his being present, and he therefore moved that when the Court adjourn it will be until Saturday next.

On motion of Mr. Drake the Senate then adjourned until Saturday.

The Missouri delegation waited upon Mr. Henderson to demand that he vote for conviction on some of the articles or resign his position.

The Southern Union men, of whom there are a large number in the city have been the most cast down of any class here. They have taken measures to-day to organize for the purpose of placing the situation of the Union men in the South as they deemed it would be, should the President be acquitted, before the Senators. These men all agree that there would be no safety whatever in Southern delegates to Chicago or members elect to Congress returning to their homes. All the letters received from the South from Union men since the trial began have exhibited great anxiety lest the Senate should fail to convict.

The speech of Mr. Morton in the Senate last night produced a marked effect. His earnestness fixed the attention of all Senators upon him. One of the strongest points he made was to read the resolution by which the Senate reinstated Stanton, and then call over slowly the names of those who voted for it. From this he reasoned that whose names he had read had committed themselves to sustain the tenure of office law, and that the senatorial oath, under which they then acted, was as binding as their judicial oath.

The following is the resolution reinstating Stanton, adopted on the 13th of January last:

Resolved, "That having considered the evidence and reasons given by the President in his report of 12th of December, 1867, for the suspension of Edwin M. Stanton, the Senate do not concur in such suspension.

This resolution was voted for by the following Senators, all of whom may reasonably be supposed to believe the civil tenure act applicable to Stanton's case, and can scarcely escape the conclusion that his removal was an infraction of that law: Messrs. Anthony, Cameron, Cattell, Chandler, Cole, Conkling, Conness, Corbett, Cragin, Drake, Edwards, Ferry, Fessenden, Fowler, Frelinghuysen, Harlan, Howard, Howe, Morgan, Morrill, Me.; Morrill, Vt.; Morton, Nye, Patterson, N. H., Pomeroy, Ramsey, Stewart, Sumner, Thayer, Tipton, Trumbull, Wade Willey, Williams, and Wilson.

On this vote not a single Republican Senator voted in the negative. Those absent were Messrs. Grimes, Henderson, Ross, Sherman, Sprague, Van Winkle and Yates.

The following is the resolution adoped by the Senate, in executive session, on the night of the 21st of February last:

WHEREAS, The Senate have read and considered the communication of the President, stating that he had removed Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War and had designated the Adjutant General of the Army to act as Secretary of War ad interim: therefore,

Resolved, by the Senate of the United States, That under the Constitution and laws of the United States, the President has no power to remove the Secretary of War and designate any other officer to perform the duties of that office ad interim.

This resolution was voted for by the following Senators: Messrs. Anthony, Cameron, Cattell, Cole, Conkling, Cragin, Drake, Ferry, Harlan, Morrill, Me.; Morrill, Vt.; Morton, Patterson, N. H.; Pomeroy, Ramsey, Ross, Sprague, Stewart, Sumner, Thayer, Tipton, Trumbull, Van Winkle, Wade, Willey, Williams, Wilson and Yates. The only Republican who voted against this was Mr. Edmunds, who now sustains impeachment. Those absent were Messrs. Chandler, Conness, Corbett, Fessenden, Fowler Frelinghuysen, Grimes, Henderson, Howard, Howe, Morgan, Nye and Sherman.

Nuisances.

The idle levy a very heavy tax upon the industrious, when, by frivolous visitations, they rob them of their time. Such persons beg their daily hapiness from door to door, as beggars their daily bread; and like them sometimes meet with a rebuff. A mere gossip ought not to wonder if we evince signs that we are indebted for the honor of his visit solely to the circumstance of his being tired of himself. He sits at home until he has accumulated an intolerable load of ennui, and he sallies forth to distribute it amongst all his acquaintances.

THE IMPEACHMENT ARTICLES.

Article first charges the President with violating the "act regulating the tenure of certain civil offices," passed March 2, 1867, by unlawfully ordering on the 21st of February, 1868, the removal of Edwin M. Stanton from the office of Secretary of War, without the advice and consent of the Senate, the said Senate being then in session, thereby committing and being guilty of a high misdemeanor in office.

Article second is as follows:

ARTICLE II.

That on the 21st day of February, in the year of our Lord, 1868, at Washington, in the District of Columbia, said Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, unmindful of the high duties of his office, of his oath of office, and in violation of the Constitution of the United States, and contrary to the provisions of an act entitled "An act regulating the tenure of certain civil offices," passed March 2, 1867, without the advice and consent of the Senate of the United States, said Senate then and there being in session, and without authority of law, did, with intent to violate the Constitution of the United States and the act aforesaid, issue and deliver to one Lorenzo Thomas a letter of authority in substance as follows, that is to say:

"EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb. 21, '68.

"SIR—Hon. Edwin E. M. Stanton, having this day been removed from office as Secretary for the Department of War, you are hereby authorized and empowered to act as Secretary of War ad interim, and will immediately enter upon the discharge of the duties pertaining to that office.

"Mr. Stanton has been instructed to transfer to you all the records, books, papers, and other public property now in his custody and charge.

"Respectfully yours,
ANDREW JOHNSON.

"To Brevet Major General Lorenzo Thomas, Adjutant General United States Army, Washington, D. C."

Then and there being no vacancy in said office of Secretary of the Department of War, whereby said Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, did then and there commit, and was guilty of a high misdemeanor in office.

Article third charges that the President on the 21st day of February, did commit and was guilty of a high misdemeanor in office in this, that, without authority of law, while the Senate of the United States was then and there in session, he did appoint one Lorenzo Thomas to be Secretary for the Department of War ad interim, without the advice and consent of the Senate, and with intent to violate the Constitution of the United States, no vacancy having happened in said office of Secretary for the Department of War during the recess of the Senate, and no vacancy existing at the time.

Article fourth accuses the President of high crime in office in unlawfully conspiring with Lorenzo Thomas and with other persons, with intent by intimidation and threats to hinder and prevent Edwin M. Stanton from holding the office of Secretary of War.

Article five charges conspiracy with Lorenzo Thomas and others to hinder and prevent the execution of the civil tenure act, thereby being guilty of a high misdemeanor.

Article sixth charges conspiracy with Lorenzo Thomas by force to seize, take and possess the property of the United States in the Department of War, then and there in the custody and charge of Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of said Department, thereby committing a high crime in office.

Article seventh charges the President with the same offense as in the previous article, alleging his guilt of high misdemeanor in office.

Article eighth charges the President with high misdemeanor in office in having, with intent unlawfully to control the disbursement of the money appointed for the military service and for the Department of War, issued a letter of authority for one Lorenzo Thomas.

Article ninth charges the President with high misdemeanor in office in bringing before him Gen. W. H Emory, commander of the Department at Washington, and instructing him that a part of a law of the United States "making appropriations for the support of the army," especially the second section thereof, which provides among other things that "all orders and instructions relating to military operations issued by the President or Secretary of War shall be issued through the General of the Army, &c." was unconstitutional, thereby intending to induce said Emory to violate the provisions of the act.

Article tenth charges high misdemeanor in office by the "swinging around the circle speeches."

Article eleventh, is in full as follows:

ARTICLE XI.

That said Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, unmindful of the high duties of his office and of his oath of office, and in disregard of the Constitution and Laws of the United States, did heretofore, to wit: on the 18th day of August, 1866, at the city of Washington, and the District of Columbia, by public speech, declare in substance that the Thirty-ninth Congress of the U. S. was not authorized by the Constitution to exercise legislative power under the same; but, on the contrary was a Congress of only part of the States, thereby denying and intending to deny that the legislation of said Congress was valid or obligatory upon him, the said Andrew Johnson, except in so far as he saw fit to approve the same, and also thereby denying and intending to deny the power of the said Thirty-ninth Congress to propose amendments to the Constitution of the United States; and in pursuance of said declaration, the said Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, afterward, to wit: on the 21st day of February, 1868, at the City of Washington, in the District of Columbia, did unlawfully and in disregard of the requirements of the Constitution, that he should take care that the laws be faithfully executed, attempt to prevent the execution of "An act regulating the tenure of certain civil offices," passed March 2, 1867, by unlawfully devising and contriving, and attempting to devise and contrive, means by which he should prevent Edwin M. Stanton from forthwith resuming the functions of the office of Secretary for the Department of War, notwithstanding the refusal of the Senate to concur in the suspension theretofore made by said Andrew Johnson, of said Edwin M. Stanton from said office of Secretary for the Department of War, and also by further unlawfully devising and contriving, and attempting to devise and contrive, means then and there to prevent the execution of an act entitled "An act making appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1868, and for other purposes," approved March 2, 1867, and also to prevent the execution of an act entitled "An act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," passed March 2, 1867; whereby the said Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, did then, to wit: On the 21st day of February, 1868, at the City of Washington, commit and was guilty of a high misdemeanor in office.

And the House of Representatives, by protestation, saving to themselves the liberty of exhibiting at any time hereafter any further articles or other accusation or impeachment against the said Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, and also of replying to his answers which he shall make unto the articles herein preferred against him, and of offering proof to the same and every part thereof, and to all and every other article, accusation, or impeachment which shall be exhibited by them, as the case shall require, do demand that the said Andrew Johnson may be put to answer the high crimes and misdemeanors in office herein charged against him, and that such proceedings, examinations, trials and judgments may be thereupon had and given as may be agreeable to law and justice."

BEN WADE.

Soon after taking his seat in the Senate, a fire-eating Southerner, in debate, grossly assailed a Free State Senator. As no allusion was made to him or his State, Wade sat still, but when the Senate adjourned, he said openly if ever a southern Senator made such an attact on him or Ohio, while he sat on that floor, he would brand him as a liar. This coming to the ears of the southern men, a Senator took occasion to pointedly speak, a few days afterward, of Ohio and her people as negro thieves. Instantly Mr. Wade sprang to his feet and pronounced the Senator a liar. The southern Senators were astounded and gathered around their champion, while the Northern men grouped about Wade. A feder was put out from the southern side looking to retraction, but Mr. Wade retorted in his peculiar style, and demanded an apology for the insult offered him and the people he represented. The matter thus closed and a fight was looked upon as certain. The next day a gentleman called on the Senator from Ohio, and asked the usual question touching the acknowledgment of the code:

"I am here," he responded, "in a double capacity. I represent the State of Ohio, and I Represent Ben. Wade. As a Senator, I'm opposed to dueling. As Ben. Wade I recognize the code."

"My friend feels agrieved," said the gentleman, "at what you said in the Senate yesterday, and will ask for an apology or satisfaction."

"I was somewhat embarrassed," continued Senator Wade, "by my position yesterdy, as I have some respect for the Chamber. I now take this opportunity to say what I then thought; and you will if you please repeat it. Your friend is a foul-mouthed old blackguard."

"Certainly Senator Wade, you do not wish me to convey such a message as that?"

"Most certainly I do; and will tell you, for your own benefit, this friend of yours will never notice it. I will not be asked for either retraction, explanation, or a fight."

Next day Mr. Wade came into the Senate, and, proceeding to his seat, deliberately drew from under his coat two large pistols, and unlocking his desk, laid them inside. The southern men looked on in silence, while the Northern members enjoyed the fire-eaters' surprise at the proceeding of the plucky Ohio Senator. No futher notice was taken of the affair of the day before. Wade was not challenged; but ever afterwards was treated with politeness and consideration by the Senator who had insultingly attacked him.

Miscellaneous.

AN OLD MAID'S OPINION.—All we can say of the best young men is, that they make good resolutions which they never keep, and are full of faults which they are always regreting.

A GOOD rule is in force on some of the railroads of Pennsylvania, to the effect that the officers of such roads are clearly forbidden to sell a ticket to or allow intoxicated persons to ride in any of their cars.

IT is now ascertained that fifteen thousand native whites voted for the Republican constitution and the Republican State ticket at the late election in South Carolina. This is more than double the number heretofore reported.

A PAPER in Indianapolis, Ind., proposes that hereafter, instead of saying "Let us sing the Doxology," the minister shall say, Let us put on overcoats, adjust furs, slip on gloves, grab our hats, look at the clock and be dismissed."

A TALKING MATCH is on the tap-is between two woman of Boston. Amount of wager not stated. Time, twenty-four hours without sleep; no stoppages for food or drink. The husbands of the amiables are anxious to have the time extended to a week.

"WHAT'S that?" asked a teacher of an urchin, the son of a prominent Democrat, pointing to the letter X. "That's my pa's name." "No, no; that's X." "I know it is my pa,s name, for I've seen him write it many a time."

THE Canadians have more wheat than they can use. Cod oil is so cheap they have closed the wells. Silver money is a drug, and yet times never were so hard, for immigrants will not come in and old settlers are leaving.

HORACE Greeley says that if you lend a stranger money as a general thing he will never pay it; but Horace notices an exception. He once received a remittance of a five dollar loan, and on inquiry found that the writer was a patient in a lunatic asoylum.

THE Pittsburgh Gazette, says: The Methodist General Conference have fully met the public confidence and the elevated wisdom and Christian purity of their deliberations, by sweep-away, in a decisive vote on Monday, all the barriers which excluded any portion of the human race from their perfect fellowship.

THE red-striped pole of the barber is said to have originated from the fact that, some centuries ago, it was customary for barbers to bleed people; and the pole, with alternate, winding stripes of white and red represented the bandaged arm of the phlebotomized victim. In course of time the apothecary superceded the barber as a bloodletter; but the old sign of the craft was retained by the latter, after the function which gave it significance had ceased.

A GOOD rule is in force on some of the railroads of Pennsylvania, to the effect, that the officers of such roads are clearly forbidden to sell a ticket to or allow intoxicated persons to ride in any of their cars. This rule is excellent, and should be applied to all business. No man intoxicated should be allowed to appear any where on a railroad car, on the highway, the side walk, at market, in a business transaction, or in fact, any where in public, for the reason that the drunkard is an unclean and unsafe thing.

A "TERRIBLE OUTRAGE" has just been badly spoiled. The democratic papers in the Northern States have for some time past been circulating a story to the effect that one of Gen. Mower's soldiers, a negro, recently outraged the General's daughter, a young lady of some sixteen years, while on duty at Ship Island, Louisiana. They further stated that as General Mower was a radical, he had the negro quietly arrested and executed; without making either an official or unofficial report of the matter. The Albany Evening Journal spoils this story by stating that General Mower never had a daughter, and is not now and never was a married man in his life. So much for that "outrage." What will be the character of the next?

A SPRIGHTLY writer expresses his opinion of old maids in the following manner: "I am inclined to think that many of the satirical aspersions cast upon old maids tell more to their credit than is generally imagined. Is a woman remarkably neat in her person? She will certainly be an old maid. Is she particularly reserved toward the other sex? She has all the squeamishness of an old maid. Is she frugal in her expenses, and exact in her domestic concerns? She is cut out for an old maid. And if she be humane to the animals about her, nothing can save her from the apellation of an old maid. In short, I have always found that neatness, modesty, economy, and humanity are the never-failing characteristics of that terrible creature—"old maid."

THE TREACHEROUS SEVEN----THEIR RECORD.

On Saturday last the Court of Impeachment voted on the 11th article—35 ayes to 19 nays, and adjourned till the 26th inst. The recusant Republican Senators that voted for acquittal were, Fessenden, Fowler, Grimes, Henderson, Ross, Trumbull and Van Winkle. These men have all made for themselves a record of infamy. They have foresworn themselves—stultified their own actions. Under their oaths as Senators they all supported the Civil Tenure Act, showing that they believed it constitutional. On the 21st of February last the Senate adopted the following:

Whereas, The Senate have read and considered the communication of the President stating that he had removed Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War, and had designated the Adjutant General of the Army to act as Secretary of war ad interim. Therefore,

Resolved, By the Senate of the United States, that under the Constitution and laws of the United States, the President has no power to remove the Secretary of War, and designate any other officer to perform the duties of that office ad interim.

Four of the above named Senators were not present, but Ross, Trumbull and Van Winkle voted for it. Showing most conclusively that they believed the Civil Tenure Act applicable to Stanton's case.

The following is the resolution reinstating Secretary Stanton, adopted on the 13th of January last:

Resolved, That, having considered the evidence and reasons given by the President, in his report of the 12th of December, 1867, for the suspension of Edwin M. Stanton, the Senate do not concur in such suspension.

This resolution was supported and voted for by Fessenden, Fowler and Trumbull, the other four not voting. In addition to this some of these men have repeatedly demanded that the President should be Impeached. In December last Mr. Fowler complained of Mr. Benton of N. H., for voting against Impeachment when Benton replied:

"If we had impeached him, the "Senate would have failed to convict "him." Just send us an impeach-"ment," rejoined Mr. Fowler, "and "you will be forced to admit that you "have misjudged us."

On the 30th of January last a meeting of the Republican Congressional Committee was held at the house of Senator Morgan, which Mr. Fowler attended. Mr. Fowler at length took the floor and said, "What has been "urged here to-night is well; but it "does not go to the root of the matter. "There is no protection, no safety, no "peace for the loyal people of the "South, so long as Andrew Johnson "remains in the White House. If "Congress shall longer hesitate to "impeach and depose this Johnson the "blood of thousands of loyal Southern-"ers, murdered by bloody-minded, "implacable Rebels, will rest upon our "souls," etc., etc.

Others of them, especially Fessenden and Trumbull have time and again denounced the usurpations and misdemeanors of the President in unmeasured terms.

In view of this array of facts the question arises, what could have induced these men to their treachery? There are many reasons adduced—opposition to Wade and his views of the Tariff question, disappointed ambition, a league with Chase to form a third party to defeat Grant—a compromise with Johnson, he promising better things, &c., &c. But the most plausible supposition is that to which the New York World gives the cue as follows:

"Let the men of wealth in this city without regard to party, assemble at the Exchange or in the Cooper Institute, and subscribe a sufficient sum—ten millions of dollars—if need be—to buy a favorable verdict. There are 14 Radical Senators whose terms of office expire in 1869. Beyond that time they are sure of no political position; so far as they know now, they are certain of no 'paying place.' Surely, as many as eight of these men would far rather be sure of a million each in hand than to wait for the uncertainty of a $5,000 office by and by. Let us buy their votes at their own price."

For the REPUBLICAN.

MR. EDITOR:—The last issue of the Messenger has a column of its paper devoted to the abuse of the Cumberland Presbyterian of this place, or its editor, A. B. Miller, who is the President of our College, for what it or he said respecting the conduct of our Judges in licensing taverns here to sell intoxicating liquors. The article does not purport to be written by the editor of the Messenger, although printed without comment. And it indulges in such choice epithets towards Mr. Miller, as "false light;" "wolf in sheep's clothing;" "blind leader;" "false witness," &c., &c. Although the editor makes no comment, yet from his early piety and christian walk and conversation, we are led to believe that the article is a veritable production of another hand, who has not the well-being of our community much at heart. The article he animadverts upon so luminously, charges—"That the judges of our Court inclining to the liquor side, were brought to a stand still, and in order to save the sinking cause, and as an apology for putting their HANDS under it in broad day-light, when they could just as well put their FEET upon it, declared the disposal of the case laid over for a week, and that the Petitioners might go out and procure signatures anywhere in the County," &c.

The article further asserts that remonstrances were signed by a majority of the voting population and by nineteen-twentieths of the remaining portion of the community. This the writer in the Messenger charges as false, and says that there were only sixty-five voters in all. Be this as it may, we do not believe it. But to give a specimen of his mathematics, he says there were

Voting population.....260
Number signed remonstrance..... 65

Did not sign remonstrance.....195

Now from these figures pray let some school boy cipher it out who comes nearest the truth—Mr. Miller in his guess of the majority, or the writer of the article by his figures. This writer, who calls himself "a friend to truth," makes out by his figures that there is one hundred and ninety-five of a majority in favor of a license—when the figures properly arranged shows it false.

But whether these figures were made to deceive the readers of the Messenger or not, we leave to be judged; but that was not the gist of Mr. Miller's statement. What he said respecting numbers was no doubt represented to him, and the majority on the remonstrance in point of respectability was indeed so great in the opinion of the Court, as to cause the refusing of every license, had they acted upon them promptly, as they ought.

But instead of doing so, as they ought under the law, they paused and at last without any application of the kind from the applicants, they postponed their decision for one week, and told the applicants they might get all persons to sign they could, and in getting signers they were not restricted to the citizens of their respective townships.

There was the pinch of the matter which showed the inclination of the Court which amounts to a clear violation of duty.

And not satisfied with making such a decision as they did, the President argued in favor of the license law to sell liquor, and spoke of his own experience that instead of a "temperance hotel having one Barroom as in licensed houses, they were Barrooms from cellar to garret." And the remark, although well received by his associates from appearances, was considered by men of as large experience as his Honor as altogether gratuitous.

These comments, Mr. Editor, are made in no spirit of levity, malevolence or bad feeling toward our Court but in sorrow for a community that is suffering every day for the want of a good Judiciary and pure and good-minded men to govern our affairs. Since Court, what has been our experience but one continued scene of drunkenness on the street, and brawling midnight revels? "God, save the Commonwealth and the Honorable Court."

Now what can such a correspondent think of himself, knowing these things to be true? Can he be a man of a family, a lover of truth, as he styles himself, or does he belong to the "whiskey ring," as the character of his writing denotes?

I would advise him the next time he attacks a man let it not be one who has done more to promote the interest of our town, elevate and correct the errors of society here, than any other man. IPSA VERITAS.

LA CROSSE DEMOCRAT.

We have been permitted to look over a copy of this great paper, the organ of Democracy. It is a quarto in form, forty-eight columns mostly reading matter, one wood cut illustration of the dethronement of the Goddess of Liberty and the setting up in her place a negro woman. It is devoted almost wholly to politics, there being but little news in it. It is hard to tell which it abuses the more, the Radicals, or Gov. Seymour. I was astonished to find there was such a "war in the camp." The few Democratic journals I have read lately seem to think all is going on smoothly, but the way this giant pitches into Seymour, Belmont, the World and the Chicago Times et al., will surely end in the destruction of one of the parties. A few extracts will show its style.

"The Rump Hell at Washington." "The Devil's Impeachment cauldron." "Mongrel Senators whipped in." "The Radical show in Hell." "Miscegenation in Milwaukee." Such are a few of the headings.

"No man in this broad land, from the Lakes to the Gulf, so thoroughly represents the Democratic heart as Mr. Vallandigham." "The capacity of the American donkey, Ulysses, is about one-half gallon Old Rye, per deim." "For deep-seated, lasting cruelty, for refined barbarity, and double-distilled devilishness, the organs of the shoddy churches of the North are without a parallel, their venomous course has driven the great bulk of the people outside the pale of the churches, and the people are just becoming a nation of scoffing infidels." "The day will come when a scrap of Confederate grey will be more highly prized than an acre of blue shoddy." "When the reaction comes there will be such a freeing of mongrel spirits from their earthly tenements; such a gushing of impure blood from scrofulous carcasses; such a cutling of brohchitis windpipes; such a shricking of deown east terror-stricken voices; such a rapid colonization of hell's spare territories, as was never recorded since the Great Architect rested from his labors on the seventh day and said 'let there be light.'"

The editor is a sharp observer, and knows the class with which he deals. He claims his paper has the largest circulation of the Democratic weeklies, being over 150,000 copies. His list is increasing at a rapid rate. The copy I saw contained a list of a hundred and ten persons from different parts of the country who in one week had sent him clubs of subscribers, ranging from five to twenty-five. It also contains a few "letters from the people"——

"Darien Center, N. Y.—I am forming clubs, and getting people to read the Democrat. Your thunder is the right kind; let it roll on until it shakes the putrid flesh from the rotten bones of the rotten-hearted devil-doing, God defying crew."

"Your paper has the reputation of being true to its time-honored name in this country." "Continue to pile on the fuel and make it so hot that Radicalism will gladly seek the present abode of its martyrized saint in regions infernal, rather than endure the torment administered here."

Will any one claim this paper is not the true representative of Democracy? In every portion of the country it is superceding the World, the Herald, and other papers of like stamp.

I would like to give a few extracts for the benefit of Democratic women, but from decency forbear. If any one is incredulous as to the kind of reading Democrats give to their wives and daughters, let them come to me and I will show them the proofs.

There are a great many quotations from Shakespeare, particularly in the editorials. But the way it comes out on the "Bond question" leaves not a place for Seymour to stand on. Pendleton seems to be somewhat of a favorite with it, but not so much as Val. Bad grammar is conspicuous throughout; also new names, such as "boosting."

There is no doubt that the Democrats intend to fight it out on that line. One thing seems to be certain, the Democracy cannot be united solidly on any one man, thus rendering a victory for the "nigger lovers" doubly easy. EX.-D.

THE POINT SUSTAINED.—The Democracy have long been charged with opposing schools and soldiers. The Democratic Legislature of Ohio have afforded positive demonstrations that both points are well taken. They have disfranchised College Students and the crippled Soldiers at Dayton Assylum. Intelligence and patriotism are alike inimical to the so-called Democracy.

THE NEW ROAD LAW.

Below we print the new road law for Greene County. It was drawn by R. W. Downey, Esq., and passed by the last Legislature. We are of the opinion that when the system is put fairly in operation we will have better roads and lighter taxes. We bespeak for it, a fair trial. If it works well the people will be the gainer, if it does not, the Act is self regulating, and the system can be easily abandoned:

A Supplement to an Act Passed on the 13th of June, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty-six, Relating to Public Roads and Highways so far as the same relates to the county of Greene.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall and may be lawful for the supervisors of each of the several townships of Greene county, with the consent of any citizen or tax payer to assign to said citizen or tax payer a section of the legally authorized roads or highways in their respective townships, to be kept in good order and repair by the person to whom such assignment is made, and such person shall not be charged with or liable to the payment of any road tax in said township.

SEC. 2. That it shall and may be lawful for the supervisors, with the consent of two or more citizens or tax payers, to assign to said citszen or tax payer a section of the legally authorized roads or highways in their respective townships, to be kept in good order and repair by the persons to whom such assignment is made jointly, and such person shall not be charged with or liable to the payment of any road tax in said township.

SEC. 3. That in cases where a legally authorized road is the line between two or more townships it shall and may may be lawful for the supervisors of the townships whose duty it is to keep said road in repair, with the consent of any citizen or tax payer to assign to him, her or them, a section of said road to be kept in good order and repair by him or her or them and such assignment when equal to his, her or their share of the duty of keeping the public roads or highways in good repair, such person or persons shall not be charged with or liable to the payment of any road tax in their respective townships.

SEC. 4. That in the event that all the public roads or highways of a township shall be assigned the supervisors of such townships shall issue their duplicate in which all the taxables of said township to whom no assignment has been made shall be charged with a road tax on the basis of the last adjusted valuation for county purposes and such taxes when collected shall be used in opening roads, building township bridges, keeping up index boards and in payment of township auditors and supervisors. Provided, That the minimum of such tax shall be fifty cents.

SEC. 5. That in case any injury shall happen to any person or property upon any section or road assigned as aforesaid, it shall and may be lawful for the person or persons injured or aggrieved by the failure to keep the section in good order and repair, to maintain his, her or their action against the supervisors of said township or townships, with notice to the person or persons whose duty it is to keep said section in good order and repair, and in the event that judgement be recovered against said township or townships, execution shall be levied upon the goods and chattels of him, her or them whose duty it was to keep said section in repair, as for his her or their own property debt.

SEC. 6. That it shall be the duty of the supervisors of the the respective townships when an assignment of a section of road is made, to enter upon the township books a statement particularly setting forth the names of those to whom such assignment is made, where such assignment begins and where it ends, and whether the same is in full or only a pro tanto extinguishment of his, her or their taxes in said township, and any change or alterations made, and in case of annulment what assignment was annulled, and the date of the same.

SEC. 7. That the supervisors of each township in which all the roads of the township shall not have been assigned, may change or alter such assignment of roads with the consent of the citizens or tax payers aforesaid, or may without his, her or their consent, annul any assignment of road as aforesaid, stating the date and fact of such annulment, but such annulment shall not take effect till from and after the date of the township election next ensuing the date of such annulment.

ADMISSION OF SOUTHERN STATES.

The House of Representatives have passed bills for the admission of Arkansas, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama, by a party vote—every Democrat voting no. This shows how very solicitous the Copperhead Democracy are for the complete restoration of the Union!

INDIGNATION.

Perhaps, never in the history of the country have indignation meetings been so universal an earnest among the people as at present, occasioned by the seven recreant Senators. Their conduct everywhere among the loyal masses are regarded as infamous beyond measure.

THE Chicago Convention meets today. Grant will be nominated by acclamation. Latest advices indicate Wade for Vice President.

For the REPUBLICAN.

MR. EDITOR;—I see by your paper that the Lawrence-Donley Imbroglio is flatly denied by Mr. Donley. That is not surprising to any one. A man capable of a design such as he says he stands charged would deny it. The denial of the truth would be no worse than being guilty of the charge. We do not expect any in the secret to turn states evidence. If he states the truth be it so. But why did he not let his purpose of being a candidate become known in the place where he lived to his own party friends? Why write secret letters to his relatives in order to have them packed in convention? And why such frequent correspondence with G. V. Lawrence just before the nomination? And why at last seek a nomination from a convention not called for that purpose, with near a dozen of his own relatives packed in it, if it were not for a mere temporary purpose? No man, be he soldier or otherwise, can expect a support from his people under such a nomination made by a circumvented flank movement. The Capt. is comparatively young and may have bad counselors, and it would be well for him to stand from under, lest his modesty be shocked by the fall. A VOTER.

BRIBERY.

The sanctimonious Democracy are making great ado about the "pressure" or undue influence the people are making on the Senate to procure conviction. But we have not heard of any of them complain of the monstrous bribery proposition contained in the N. Y. World of the 4th inst, suggesting the raising of $10,000,000 "to buy Senators at their own price!"

COL. JNO. W. FORNEY has tendered his resignation as Secretary of the Senate, in order that he may feel free to speak of the action of certain Senators as they deserve.

MASSACHUSETTS has recently negotiated a loan of three million dollars for twenty years at four per cent. per annum. The National Government pays six per cent. gold, and our bonds are taken cautiously at that. In other words, the United States pays six per cent. gold for one thousand dollars of currency—Massachusetts can for four per cent. gold borrow one thousand dollars in gold. Now this two per cent. loss in interest, and twenty-five or thirty per cent. loss in the principal accurately represents the influence of the presence of the Democratic party in the country. In the Bay State the Democracy is substantially unknown. As an element of power it has no meaning. Repudiation, of course, is not only never mooted or discussed, but never so much as breathed. With her sixty thousand Republican majority, a reflection on the commercial honor or credit of Massachusetts would be resented similarly as an aspersion on the virtue of one's wife or daughter. Repudiation there is treason, and repudiators are looked on as traitors, and we see the result. We, as a nation, are paying dear for the being in our midst of the disloyal organization. One half of the taxes now paid by the people of the United States are directly chargeable to the Democracy. It costs us just twice as much to borrow money as need be, by reason of the dishonest policy and course of this reckless and desperate party.—Phila. Press.

ROBERT E. WITHERS, the Democratic candidate for Governor in Virginia, is a native of Campbell county, and about forty-five years of age. He was colonel of the 18th Virginia (rebel) infantry in the war of the rebellion, and in 1865 was a candidate for Congress from the Lynchburg district. For the last two years he has been editor of the Lynchburg News. General Walker, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, also served in the rebel army, and as brigadier General commanded at one time the "Stonewall Brigade."

That is just how it will be hereafter, all over the country. In the South the Democratic party will nominate for office full blooded rebels, while in the North they will nominate their political kinsmen, the sympathizers. And if, perchance, they see fit to favor a Union soldier, it is because he has cursed his country and bitterly repented of his patriotism.

AT a meeting of the Boys in Blue in Philadelphia, presided over by General Joshua T. Owen, a resolution was unanimously adopted expressing the belief that the course of Senators Grimes, Fessenden and Trumbull is prompted by malice, jealousy, disappointment and perhaps a baser motive, and no punishment known to us would express our utter detestation of these three recreants, who are to-day branded with infamous notoriety, and though the chief selected by these arch-conspirators wore the erminal robes of high office or bears the insignia of distinguished service in our ranks, they will find us in future as in the past faithful, fearless and invulnerable in our devotion to the great party which sustained us during the war.

AT a late meeting of the Phelps county (Mo.) Democracy, the following striking resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That while we recognise in the Hon. Petroleum V. Nasby the true Democrat and fearless patriot, and while we acknowledge his good intentions, we would respectfully request him to discontinue writing letters in defense of the Democratic party, as we suspect that some efforts are calculated to do more harm than good in some localities."

COLORED CONSERVATIVES

"SAVANNAH, May, 8.—A large meeting of colored conservatives was held last evening. A United States flag was presented to the meeting by white citizens. Speeches were made by white and black men, and great enthusiasm manifested.

Colored Conservatives, that means "nigger" Democrats. And they held a meeting in Savannah, a Southern city, but we do not read of them being mobbed, stoned, clubed, or shot at, by the high minded chivalry, who cannot bear the idea of acknowleding "nigger equality." But, on the other hand, we read of the white citizens, no doubt the very elite of Savannah, presenting this "black and tan" gathering with what? Why nothing less than that hitherto much hated United States flag. And that was not all. speeches were made by both white and black men, and great enthusiasm prevailed, so says the report. That certainly smacks of "mongrelism," and approaches nearer to all kinds of equality than any Republican transaction.

Beaver County Democratic Convention.

The Democratic Convention of Beaver, Pa., met at the Court House on the 27th ult., and nominated Mr. John White, of Darlington, for Assembly; J. M. Hindman, of Brighton, for Poor House Director; C. B. Hurst, of Rochester, for Trustee of Academy; Frank Wilson, Esq., for District Attorney; Henry Alcorn, for Commissioner, and John M'Carter for Auditor.

THE Washington Chronicle has a double leaded leader, evidently written by Forney, declaring that Chase, after Lincoln's nomination in 1864, tried to organize a movement to divide the party, and only retired to the Supreme bench when that failed, and asserting the belief that the ultimate purpose of Chase is to have three presidential candidates in the field with the hope of throwing the election into the House and certainly defeating Grant.

THE Impeachment Managers have resolved to investigate the charges of undue influence which are made against certain Senators, and, to that end, have subpœnaed Wm. M. Evarts, W.W. Warden of the President's staff, Senator Trumbull's son, the Clerk of the House District Committee, and several other gentlemen.

AMID the excitement in Washington, they find time to crack jokes. Butler telegraphed to his friends in New Hampshire that impeachment would come with the apple blossoms. They say the aforesaid apple blossoms being very backward, impeachment is necessarily delayed. Butler enjoys the joke and claims the authorship.

MR. EVART'S speech was longer by one day than the French Revolution of 1860. This same comparison was made by Henry Clay in speaking of Benton's speech on the United States bank. It's queer that Clay should have thought of the same comparison as we did.

FLORIDA has renewed her allegiance to the old Government, and by a gratifying majority testified her desire to re-enter the Union. She comes back with a Republican Governor, Legislature, Congressional delegation, and constitution.

GOOD NEWS.—The largest, cheapest and best stock of Dry Goods, Boots, Shoes Trimings &c., in the county is to be found at D. Shirk's Cheap Store. Call soon.

CAN'T BE BEAT—The large and fashionable stock of Dress Goods for ladies at D. Shirk's cheap store; everything in that line cheaper than the cheapest, and more to select from.

EXCITEMENT.—The impeachment excitement at Washington City is very intense and has no parallell save that, over the low prices at EVANS & MINOR, s store.

ENCOURAGE IT.—The Union School is said to be doing finely, under its present efficient corps of teachers. Let parents co-operate with the teachers, visit the school frequently and encourage both scholars, and teachers.

FOR SALE!—A first class No. 2, Empire Sewing Machine; one of Grovesteen's Piano fortes, of the best quality, and a scholarship for a course of instruction in Iron City Commercial College. Will be sold on easy terms. For information enquire at this office.

POCKETS PICKED.—We learn that Joseph Anderson of Beaver, lost a pocketbook at the show on Monday, containing money and papers of the value of about eighty dollars. Another gentleman from the country, whose name we did not learn, lost between fifty and sixty dollars at the same place.—Beaver Local.

UNREASONABLE.—The weather during the past week, has been very unfavorable for planting the spring crops. The ground has been too wet and unless farmers generally have resorted to the expedient of "planting in the Moon," the work must be exceedingly backward. We believe that astronomers argue that there is no water up there!

BURIAL CORPS.—On Friday last a Government train consisting of eight or nine mule teams laden with baggage, forage, Coffins, &c. with a force of about thirty "Contrabands," passed through this place from Wheeling enroute for Grafton. The unexpected appearance of this sable cavalcade, with their strange cargo, created no little surprise and curiosity.

SUICIDE.—MRS. Margaret Linch committed suicide on Friday evening last, by throwing herself into the river just below East Liverpool. She was somewhat intoxicated at the time. Deceased, together with two small children and her husband, Mr. Owen Lynch, were on their way from Allegheny to Wheeling. Another victim of Intemperance.—Beaver Local.

COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED.—In the United States Circuit Court on Saturday, Judge M. Candles appointed P. A. Knox, Esq., of Waynesburg, Greene Co., and John M. Dormand, of Washington, Washington Co., United States Commissioners for those Districts.—Pitts. Com.

Mr. Knox is a young Lawyer of promising talent and unimpeachable character and will make a reliable and efficient officer. He is the right man.

MARRIAGE IN THE W. VA. PENITENTIARY.—On Tuesday morning, the 12th inst., Mr. John L. Newman (a convict) was married to Miss Lue Adams of Greene Co., Pa. Rev, James Alexander officiating clergyman.

This is one of the strange occurrences that happens from time to time in the pathway of our lives. What could possibly influence parties to assume the marriage relation under such circumstances, is more than we can understand, doubtless, there are reasons which they know best themselves.—Ex.

For the REPUBLICAN

EQUAL RIGHTS.—Sir in a late No. of the Messenger, I notice in a communication from the able pen of a prominent candidate for the Legislature, the following remarkable utterances:

"Being a Democrat in principle as well as in name, I believe in equal rights, and oppose any law or measure that gives one clas of the community an undue advantage over another."

Query—Would it be proper to infer anything? Or shall we take him at his word? If the latter, would not his unadulterated Democracy appear somewhat shaky?

"DAVE" STEEL, formerly a free and easy "Devil" of the Republican and who arose by rapid gradations to its foremanship, has recently migrated, with his father,s family, to Oswego, Labett Co., Kas., where they have purchased lands and begun to build a fortune In a letter to the editor Dave says: "It is about one mile and a half from here to the jumping off place of civilization and about ten miles to the Indian Teritory." A host of friends hereabouts wish you well Dave, but all will entertain anxious forebodings lest your proximity to the "Red Skins" be no joking matter.

HAS Nature an antidote for acquired disease? The Plantation Bitters, prepared by Dr. Drake, of New York, have no doubt benefited and cured more persons of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Sour Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Sinking Weakness, General Debility, and Mental Despondency, than any other article in existence. They are composed of the purest roots and herbs, carefully prepared, to be taken as a tonic and gentle stimulant. They are adapted to any age or condition of life, and are extensively popular with mothers and persons of sedentary habits.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—A delightful toilet articles—superior to Cologne and at half the price

GONE TO THE CONVENTION.—Hon. John C. Flenniken, one of the District Delegates to the Chicago Convention left home on Friday morning last to attend to the duties assigned him. JAS. E. SAYERS, Esq., Ed. of the Republican accompanied him, we presume to see the sights, hear the big guns, take notes and reconnoiter the situation.

The convention assembles on Wednesday the 20th inst. Another very important fact is that Sayers & Hoskinson are just receiving a magnificent assortment of Spring & Summer Goods bought during the decline in prices. They cannot be beat for beauty of style and durability. They are selling them cheap as the cheapest. Call and see them.

MEDICAL—Dr. F. Whittlesey of Washington will be at the Hamilton House, Waynesburg, on Monday and Tuesday, 1st and 2nd days of June, where he invites all persons afflicted with any form of Chronic Disease, to give him a call. Dr. Whittlesey is no traveling Empiric but brings with him to our place the best test of ability and skill in his profession the successful treatment of all forms of Chronic Disease. For the past twelve years in Washington his treatment effecting cures, in many cases that had baffled the medical skill of all other systems for years; his system of Diagnosing Disease by means of the urine, never fails to detect its nature, locality and, curability, of this patients themselve will be perfectly satisfied upon submitting to his examination; his medicines are all selected from the vegitable kingdom and prepared with the greatest care by his own hands, and seldom fail to cure; we hope he may do the good for some of our suffering ones, that he has done for the afflicted in his home practice. Dr. W. is permanently located in Washington corner of Maine and Chestnut Sts. whence, he comes highly reccommended as a scientific man and thoroughly educated and skillful physician. Within the past few years he has had the experience of a large hospital practice in Cincinnatti where he was also very successful in treatment of all forms of diseases peculiar to male or female, especially all diseases and weaknesses arising from indiscretion in youth. Remember that Dr. W. will remain in Waynesburg only two days. Remember that he will be prepared with medicine to treat any case that may be presented. Remember that Dr. W. will make an honest examination of every case presented, and tell his patients what he thinks of their situation and not hold out flattering inducement for the hope of fees or reward. Remember the days of his visit. The 1st and 2nd days of June. Office rooms at the Hamilton House, consultations free and strictly confidential.

LONGEVITY—On Friday the 8th day of May five citizens of this county met accidentally, on the corner of the street whose ages in the aggregate amounted exactly to 400 years, averaging 80 years each, viz:

TABER'S CHIMNEY TOPS AND FLUES.—We have inspected this patent improvement upon the old style chimneys and are favorbly impressed with their utility, convenience, durability, adaptation and safety. To agents Messrs. Shepards and Tweedie are about canvassing our county for their introduction. It would be advisable for all persons to see for themselves as there is nothing more convincing than sight. From what we saw we should think them indispensable in a house. They are of different sizes, made of cast iron

The tops are constructed to fit any roof and are warranted as a panacea for smoking chimneys and, of course, scolding wives. They do not gather soot, weigh nothing in comparison with those in use and when once fitted to the roof any man can run flues through his whole house in an hour, suitable for any sized grate or stovepipe. Draft can be regulated. They are both useful and ornamental and should adorn the house of every live man in the county. Mr. C. W. Bower, of the "Eagle Foundery" in this place, is the agent for their construction, and will be pleased to give particulars to all who may call on him

Died.

ENOCH—At his residence in Waynesburg, on Saturday last, of Dropsy, Mr. Amos Enoch, aged about 56 years.

The subject of this notice has been a citizen of this place nearly all his life and was an industrious, upright and useful man. He has been a member of the Cumberland Presbyterean Church for a number of years, and died in the bright hope of a blissful immortality. He was taken to Washington county, to be buried beside his wife, who preceded him to the grave. He had no children. His career is closed on earth His only representatives are his deeds.

PENN. CENTRAL STOCK YARDS.

PITTSBURGH, May 14, 1868.

There were some few sales during the past week. Stock cattle are in fair demand at 5½ to 6c, though really good stockers cannot be brought here and sold much below 6½c. Prime fat steers, suitable for retailing in the Eastern markets, may be quoted at 9 to 9½c.

SHEEP—Notwithstanding the arrivals of Sheep were unusually large this week, the market was remarkably active and firm, and if anything, prices ruled higher. Quotations may be fairly given at 5½ to 7½ for common to prime heavy fat Sheep; one drove of 'scalawags' sold at 3½.

HOGS—The hog market has been moderately active this week, the demand being fully up to the supply, though compared with last week, prices are a shade lower. Light averages, such as are usually bought for New York, are off from a ¼ to ½. Prime heavy averages, such as are bought for Philadelphia market are also a shade lower, the bulk of the sales ranging from 9¾ to 10¼, according to quality and condition —one bunch of extra brought 10 40.

BALTIMORE MARKET.

BALTIMORE, May 16.—Wheat dull. Corn dull; white $1 @1 10; yellow $1 21. Oats steady; western 88c. Flour and Provisions unchanged.

THE UNION PACIFIC

RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR,

PAYABLE IN GOLD.

The Great Pacific Railroad Line, extending 1731 miles from Omaha, on the Missouri river, to the tide-waters of the Pacific Ocean, is being built by two powerful Companies—The UNION PACIFIC, beginning at Omaha, building West, and the Central Pacific of California, beginning at Sacramento, building East, until the two roads shall meet.

Both Companies have prosecuted the work with great vigor, the Union Pacific having already expended over and the Central over TWENTY MILLIONS, upon their respective parts of the undertaking. The Union Pacific have completed 550 miles—have iron and other materials for two hundred miles more upon the ground, and one hundred additional miles are ready for the track. They will have a much larger force employed this year than ever before, and it is expected that between will be in operation during 1868. There seems to be no reasonable doubt that the distance between Omaha and Sacramento will be traversed by rail in 1870.

THE GOVERNMENT GRANTS 12,800 acres of land, and its Bonds to the average amount of $28,000 per mile, to aid in the construction of the line, and authorises the issue of the first mortgage Bonds now offered for sale, to the same amount and no more. The Government takes a SECOND lien, and gives to the First Mortgage Bond-holders a prior lien for their security, to which a large paid-up capital is added. The Bonds cannot be issued except as each section of twenty miles is accepted by Government commission, so that they always represent a real property.

It is universally admitted that on the completion of the Union Pacific Railroad, its through business will make it one of the most profitable in the world—but its WAY OF LOCAL business is already several times the interest on its bonds; so that, if not another mile were built, they would be a secure investment.

THE NET EARNINGS for eight months of last year on an average of 360 miles are officially reported at $1,060,135, while the interest on all the Bonds it could issue on that length of road for that time, reduced to currency, was only $845,550.

The amount paid by the Government for the transportation of troops, munitions, stores and mails has been, and doubtless will continue to be much more than the interest on the United States Second Mortgage Bonds. If it is not, the charter provides that after the road is completed, and until said bonds and interest are paid, at least five per cent. of the net earnings of the road shall be applied to such payment.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of

NEARLY NINE PER CENT,

AND IT IS BELIEVED THAT THEY WILL SOON BE AT A PREMIUM.

The Company have but a very limited supply of their Bonds remaining on hand, but any subscriptions accepted to a greater amount than can be filled from Bonds now in the Company's possession, will be supplied from the New Bonds to be issued on that portion of the road completed in the Spring, in the order in which they are received.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Waynesburg, Pa., BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

In New York
AT THE COMPANY'S OFFICE, 20 Nassau St. and by JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, 59 Wall St.
And by the Company's Advertising Agents throughout the United States.

Remittences should be had in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP for 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the progress of the work, the resources of the country traversed by the Road, the means for construction, and the value of the bonds, which will be sent free on application at at the Company's offices or to any of the advertised agents.

Sewing Machines.

THE WORLD RENOWNED

SINGER

SEWING MACHINE.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

Has been over two years in preparation, and which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor or expense, and is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the best Sewing Machine in existence.

The Machine in question is simple, compact, durable and beautiful. It is quiet, light running and capable of performing a range and variety of work never before attempted upon a single Machine—using either Silk, Twist, Linen or Cotten Thread, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the unique, useful and popular folding tops and cabinet cases peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company have been prepared for enclosing the new Machines. These are gotten up in every variety of wood, such as Black Walnut, Mahogany, Rosewood, and the like, and from the plainest to the most elaborate pattern and finish—the Machines themselves being more or less highly ornamented, to correspond with the Tables or Cabinets for which they are intended.

A few reasons why SINGER'S latest improved SEWING MACHINES are the best for Family and General Purposes.

1st. You can sew anything from the finest single thickness of Swiss or Nansook to several thicknesses of the heaviest Beaver cloth, using any kind or size of thread with equal facility, from No. 200 Cotton up to the heaviest patent or Linen thread.

2d. It uses a short, straight needle, easily set, and makes the popular Lock Stitch alike on both sides.

3d. It has an even self-adjusting tension which requires no change for different thicknesses of material or different sizes of thread.

4th. It is free from all springs, wires and other complications, and is almost noiseless.

5th. No threads to hold or wheels to turn in starting.

6th. It does not have to be taken apart to oil and clean it.

7th. It has a perfect feed whereby you can sew the finest materials without having to keep your work stret

The Waynesburg Republican.

INSIDE A PRINTING OFFICE.

The composing room of a printing office is about as productive of various questions, and elicits as much curiosity from visitors as any place of business we know of.

The first thing a visitor does, is to step up to the case where fingers are at work and watch every motion with perfect steadfastness; looks mysterious and questions follow about like this:

"How do you know where to find the letters? Are they arranged in order? How do you know when they are right side up? What is the reason that there is more type in some boxes than the others? I should think you would make mistakes; you ought to have your boxes marked? Don't you get the wrong letters sometimes?"

Looking around he spies in a corner a lot of "something" that calls forth; "what are these?"

Compositor—"Quads."

Visitor—"What's quads?"

Compositor explains.

Next finds the forms which another person is distributing.

Visitor—"Tearing 'em down, eh?"

Compositor—"Yes."

"Can you do that faster than you can set? What makes you wet the type? (Looking at the form) Why it's all up side down! Is that the way it always is? You can't read it can you?"

Next goes around the press and finds the roller, puts his fingers on it, and gets them dyed a shade or two darker than their original color.

What's this roller made of, india rubber?

Compositor—"No, of glue and molasses."

Visitor—Of molasses! I should think it would melt.

Compositor—"It will when it gets warm enough."

His next fall is upon the paper wet down, ready for press.

Visitor—Why this paper is all wet: Do you have to do that?

Compositor—"Yes."

Vistor—What for?

Compositor explains and wishes he would dry up.

He looks around and finds a form of advertisements laid aside. He runs his finger over a column and knocks a whole sqare of it into confusion. Compositor cross, and says, "you've knocked that into pi."

Visitor whistles and goes out when compositor isn't looking.

Extract from the Democratic Bible.

The following audacious justification of cold-blooded murder and treason appears in that leading Copperhead journal, the La Crosse Democrat:

"Do you blame us when we say that God was just in sending John Wilkes Booth on that dark Good Friday night, three years ago, the darkest and gloomiest in American history, to strike the traitor down, and liberate the white freemen of America from the yoke of a despot? God is just. He struck the tyrant Lincoln from existence at an hour when the country could no longer bear the burden of him; and God, in his wisdom, cannot let the free people of America, whom he has so protected and prospered, long remain chafing under the rule of any despot."

A Witness.

A Yankee, having told an Englishman that he shot, on one particular occasion, nine hundred and ninety-nine snipes, his interlocutor asked him why he didn't make it a thousand at once.

"No," said he, "not likely I'm going to tell a lie for one snipe."

Whereupon the Englishman rather riled, and determined not to be undone, began to tell a long story of a man having swam from Liverpool to Boston.

"Did you see?" said the Yankee.

"Well, of course I did. I was coming over, and our vessel passed him a mile out of Boston harbor."

"Well, I'm glad ye saw him, stranger, because yer a witness that I did it. That was me."

THE Irish Republic, speaking of Banks' bill for the protection of American citizens in foreign countries, passed on the 30th ult., says: "What Democracy has failed to do in fifty years, Republicanism has done in seven. Let our people stand by the men who are true to liberty. Let them respond to this action of the Republican Congress and cast their ballots for the next Republican candidate for the Presidency. It matters not whether he may be Grant, Greeley, Wade, Colfax, &c., they are all men pledged to the glowing principles of Republican liberty.

THE Democrats are furious at beholding on every hand the manifest indications that under Grant the country is to be permanently restored, and the Republican principles, made dominant over every portion of the country. They are greatly in want of comfort. They seek it morning, noon, and night; but they find it not. Won't somebody hold their splitting heads, cool their fevered brows, soothe their anxious hearts, and quiet their perturbed spirits? Poor fellows, with inevitable defeat staring them in the face, they are in a bad way.—Star and Sentinel.

A Kansas Court, 1867.

Once an attorney for the defence took his cigar from his mouth, and behind a huge puff of smoke objected to certain testimony on the other side as inadvisable. The justice gravely replied:

"The Court sustains the objection and rules that the question cannot be asked at this stage of the game."

The inference was, that "the court" played poker.

AGENTS WANTED FOR

THE OFFICIAL HISTORY

OF THE WAR,

ITS CAUSES, CHARACTER, CONDUCT AND RESULTS.

By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.

A BOOK FOR ALL SECTIONS AND ALL PARTIES.

This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the Causes of the war yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with APPARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and solitary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire every where manifested to obtain this work, its Official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One agent in Easton, Pa., reports 72 subscribers in three days.

One in Boston, Mass. 103 subscribers in four days.

One in Memphis, Tenn. 105 subscribers in five days.
